RE-FLECTIONS

By JULIUS C. RE
President of the Soccer Federation of W.A.

Encouraged by a successful season in 1965, we look forward to 1966 with confidence and optimism. Last year we obtained our own soccer headquarters (Soccer House), the standard of the game rose to an all-time high, three of our State League clubs announced big plans for the future and our juniors went from strength to strength.

It was a year of progress in more ways than one and there is no reason why 1966 should not be even better.

The event of 1965 was, without doubt, AUSTRALIA'S participation in the WORLD CUP.

The score was not what every Australian would have liked. The great thing was that the world and some Australians now know that Australia does play soccer, and at a higher standard than most people thought possible. My congratulations to the A.S.F. for the work they put into sending the Australian team to Cambodia. The effort was well worth the trouble.

On the local scene SWAN ATHLETIC represented our State in the Australia Cup and gave some very fine performances, not only in qualifying for the right to meet the South Australian team Juventus but also in Adelaide against very tough opposition.

The Australia Cup competition still leaves a lot to be desired. More co-operation and better organisation are needed.

Azzurri and Cracovia fought out the final of the D'Orsogna Cup—two teams from different divisions, again proving that every club in the State has the opportunity to win this important trophy.

This year more country teams have nominated. This is most gratifying, especially as the Wisla club from Collie gave such good displays in Perth last season.

In 1965 the Soccer Federation of W.A. sent a State junior side to Queensland to play in the Australian Youth Carnival. We felt that the £2,000 needed to send the team to the far side of Australia was money well spent.

Though the W.A. lads did not do too well on the field, it is my hope that they will have picked up plenty of EXPERIENCE. Of course, Victoria does not share our feelings.

Our enormous problem we have to face this year is how to cope with all the junior teams and divisions that have mushroomed in the last two years but which operate outside the jurisdiction of the federation.

None of these junior clubs has any affiliation with the Soccer Federation of W.A., but it is still our duty to guide and help them with grounds, equipment and anything else they might want.

Some Eastern States federations have killed the national championship.

For the sake of soccer, I hope they never do the same with the junior carnival.

W.A. is always hard-pressed to find the money to be represented in national competitions, but we always manage to send our teams away.

This shows the emphasis we place on INTERSTATE GAMES.

Last year's AMPOL CUP night series was the best we have seen up to date. The final between North Perth and Azzurri had the large crowd on their toes for every moment of the 90 minutes. It was a tremendously exciting game that put everyone present in an excellent frame of mind.

Our REFEREES, on whom we depend so much, have been hard pressed because of a shortage of members.

Having junior fixtures played on Sundays helped to alleviate the problem.

With talk in Sydney of forming a national referees' body, the membership will and must grow.

I would like to thank our many supporters and advertisers for assistance given last year.

In particular, I am grateful to:

- Ampol Petroleum, for the $1,000 trophy for the night series and their able assistance.
- Mr Tom D'Orsogna, for the D'Orsogna Cup and medal.
- W. D. and H. O. Wills, for the promotion of international soccer.
- C. Lawrence and Co., for the Carbonell Cup for our fairest and best player.
- Ansett-A.N.A., for their help with travel arrangements for players and officials.
- And to the men who keep soccer before the public—Alan Newman (The West Australian, TVW7 and the editor of this annual); Frank Miller (Daily News, Weekend News and ABW2); David Andrews (The West Australian, Sports Review and 6IX) and John Montagu (6PM).

INTER RATED TOPS

Few soccer fans would dispute the right of Italy's crack team, Internazionale-Milan, to hold pride of place among the world's club sides. But opinions differ on the choice of clubs to fill the rest of the placings in the World Top Ten.

Below are two lists, one compiled by Eric Batty, a respected writer for the London publication World Soccer, and the other by Italy's mass circulation sports daily Corriere dello Sporto. Both lists are based on form displayed in 1965.

WORLD SOCCER	CORRIERE DELLO SPORTO

2. Benfica (Portugal).	Benfica (Portugal).
3. Independiente (Argentina).	Independiente (Argentina)
4. A. C. Milan (Italy).	Liverpool (England).
5. Palmeiras (Brazil).	Santos (Brazil).
6. Real Madrid (Spain).	Botafogo (Brazil).
7. Penarol (Uruguay).	West Ham United (England).
8. Boca Juniors (Argentina).	Ferencvaros (Hungary).
9. Santos (Brazil).	Juventus (Italy).
10. West Ham United (England).	Real Madrid (Spain).

Memorable scenes were witnessed at the first F.A. Cup final at Wembley on April 28, 1923, between Bolton Wanderers and West Ham United. An accurate return of the attendance could not be made owing to the crowd breaking in, but there were probably 150,000 spectators present. The start of the match was delayed 40 minutes because the crowd invaded the playing pitch. The English F.A. refunded nearly £3,000 to ticket-holders who were unable to get to their seats. At all subsequent finals, admission has been by ticket only.

TED BUDE APPOINTED TO F.I.F.A. POOL

Late in 1965, West Australian referee Ted Bude was appointed by F.I.F.A. to the pool of referees eligible for the World Cup and other international matches under the jurisdiction of F.I.F.A.

The appointment, the first of its kind for a West Australian, is a tribute to the skill and knowledge of Bude, who has long been to the forefront of referees in W.A.

It is highly probable that Bude will, in time, receive important refereeing appointments in the Malaysia, Singapore area.

Five other Australian referees were appointed to the F.I.F.A. pool at the same time as Bude. They are Roger Lamb (Victoria), Tony Boskovic and Harold Parsons (N.S.W.), Vince Dobinson (Queensland) and Bill Howsie (South Australia).

HAT TRICK TO TRICOLORE

The 1965 State League competition ended on August 14, but to all intents and purposes the premiership was neatly parcelled up and on its way back to East Fremantle-Tricolore three weeks before that.

For on July 24, before the season's biggest crowd at Dorrien Gardens, the consistent Tricolore side steamrollered aside its only remaining challenger, Azzurri, to the tune of 4-2 and established an unassailable lead at the top of the table.

In becoming the first team to take off the State League honours for the third time since the formation of the Federation in 1960, Tricolore completed a hat trick of premierships.

It was also the first leg of a double of another sort, for two months later Tricolore's neighbours from the other side of Canning Highway carried off the W.A. National Football League pennant.

No matter which shape of ball you prefer, 1965 was East Fremantle's year.

For the record, Tricolore won 15 of its 18 league matches, drew one and lost two, scored 72 goals and conceded only 20.

A little of the lustre in Tricolore's outstanding performance was dulled by two surprise defeats—both on its home ground at Wauhop Park—one by Kiev and one by Athena.

The first of these reverses—a 1-3 loss to Kiev on July 17—brought to an end an unbeaten sequence of 33 matches that Tricolore had strung together since the closing stages of the 1963 season.

Two more unbeaten weeks and Tricolore would have equalled the feat of the East Fremantle Football Club, which played 35 league matches without defeat between 1945 and 1947.

Nothing tastes sweeter than success, but I doubt whether Tricolore officials, players and fans will be aiming to improve on the 33-game sequence, at least not for a few years

For there is no doubt that the strain of having to preserve this proud record week after week against teams that were just as determined to become the first to knock Tricolore off its pedestal weighed heavily on the nerves of the players.

So much emphasis was placed on the job of avoiding defeat that Tricolore had trouble in producing the matchwinning brand of soccer of which it was always capable.

Nevertheless, as was the case in 1964, Tricolore was streets ahead of all rivals, both in class and consistency, and the five-point margin over Azzurri at the end of the season was a clear reflection of its superiority.

Once again, a large slice of the credit for Tricolore's success was due to ace goalgetter Johnny McInroy, who was responsible for nearly half of the team's goal tally for the season.

How Tricolore will fare without the services of this brilliant centre-forward while he is back in his native Scotland during 1966 is the 64-dollar question among the local soccer fraternity.

One of the most pleasing aspects of Tricolore's performance was the contribution made by two Australian-born defenders, centre-half Gary Taylor and left-back Eric Edmonds.

Here, surely is proof that home-grown talent can be at least the equal of imported material provided it is given the right coaching and grooming.

A word of congratulations also is due to coach Tony Monks for the major part he played in steering Tricolore to yet another premiership.

Quiet but forceful, a thinker and a man dedicated to the cause of soccer in all grades from State League to State school, Monks deserves credit for the way he got the best out of his men at a time when a slight case of domestic trouble in the club's administration threatened to throw a spanner in the Tricolore works.

Just as Tricolore stood head and shoulders clear at the top of the ladder, so also was Azzurri, the runner-up, a class above the standard of the other also-rans.

Fourth in 1964 with ten wins, Azzurri, strengthened by the signing of former JUST (Melbourne) inside-forward Ivan Pikl and doughty North Perth half-back Gil Nobbs, won 12 of its 18 games improved two places on the ladder and finished seven points clear of third-placed Swan Athletic.

Last successful in the State League in 1962 Azzurri has steadily built up strength—more important signings have been made in the 1965-66 summer—and there are clear indications that the Sky Blues will take a power of beating this year.

Two of the most improved teams in the comeptition, Swan Athletic and Olympic, filled the remaining places in the top four.

Swan Athletic got away to a bad start, but like a blueblood of the turf came with a withering run at the end of the season which culminated in a highly meritorious success in the Top Four Cup competition.

Fit, fast and practically breathing fire and smoke each time they took the field, the Swan Athletic men had a defensive record in the last two months of the season of which one of the ultra-cautious top Italian sides would have been envious.

Biggest disappointment of the season undoubtedly was North Perth, runners-up in 1963 and 1964 but a distant seventh with only 16 points from 18 matches in 1965.

Sadly-hit by the loss of star inside-left Bob Mayle to George Cross (Melbourne) and the scheming of inside-right Alex Napier, who was unavailable for the greater part of the season, North Perth was always struggling to find the right balance.

Constant team switches had an unsettling effect and there were times when North Perth's standard slipped below the normal requirements of a State League side.

North Perth is at present going through a trying period and it is to be hoped that the decline is only temporary.

After Tricolore had clinched the league title with weeks to spare, main interest switched to the other end of the tabl where a battle royal was in progress between Kiev, Athena and North Perth to try to avoid joining luckless Julia in the drop to the second division.

Finally it was Kiev, the team that ended Tricolore's 33-match unbeaten sequence, which was relegated.

Kiev players were overjoyed when they snatched a point from Azzurri on the last day of the State League campaign, but their high spirits were replaced by gloom when the news filtered through that Athena had achieved the impossible by downing Tricolore 2-1 at Wauhop Park.

Athena, early conquerors of Azzurri and Swan Athletic, led the premiership table after four weeks but then gradually slid down the list and was battling for survival in the closing weeks.

Lack of class forwards was Athena's biggest handicap, but there were times when it seemed that the spirit of the players was not as high as it should have been.

One leading Federation official tipped Kiev for the premiership a week before the season started—and not without justification in view of the club's big recruiting campaign.

But for some reason Kiev just couldn't make the grade in the matches that counted most. Certain players were used out of their best positions and this certainly contributed to Kiev's inconsistency.

Something radically wrong was rocking the Kiev boat and how this team that promised so much and achieved so little came to end the season with a humiliating drop to the second division will remain one of the biggest mysteries of the 1965 season.

Ivan The Terrible Sparks Azzurri

Less than six months after his arrival in Perth as Azzurri's most important signing of the 1965 season, Belgian-born Ivan Pikl carved himself a permanent place in W.A.'s soccer history book by becoming the first winner of the D'Orsogna Medal.

On September 11, "Ivan the Terrible" sparked Azzurri to a 4-3 win over a gallant Cracovia side in the final of the D'Orsogna Cup—a match that will be remembered by those fortunate enough to see it as the best display by two local teams for years.

Pikl, signed from Victoria's JUST club for $1,000 earlier in the season, repaid Azzuri his purchase price in a devastating 90-minute burst of brilliance, scoring twice and laying on another for centre-forward Nino Segon.

When Mr Tom D'Orsogna, generous donor of the D'Orsogna Cup and the D'Orsogna Medal (which was awarded for the first time in 1965), presented the medal to Pikl before a packed grandstand at Perry Lakes Stadium, sustained cheering bore testimony to the wisdom of the panel of independent judges who voted Pikl the best player on the ground.

But the voting for Pikl was not unanimous: at least one of the judges gave top place to another newcomer in W.A 's soccer ranks, balding Cracovia centre-half Zygmunt Pieda, one of four former Polish internationals in Cracovia's Cup final line-up.

Just as Pikl lifted Azzurri in moments of crisis and hammered home goals after brilliant solo runs, so Pieda was the rock in the Cracovia defence on which so many of Azzurri's attacks foundered.

Cool as a cucumber under pressure and rallying the players around him, Ziggy did the work of three men and it was no fault of his that Cracovia failed so narrowly to perform the giant-killing feat of the decade by becoming the first non-State League side to carry off W.A.'s most important knockout competition.

Having already clinched the first-division premiership, after relegation from the State League the previous season, Cracovia lined up for the D'Orsogna Cup final with the underdog's prospects of completing a unique double.

And when after 15 minutes left-winger Peter Bekink fastened on to a slide-rule pass from crack inside-left Henry Lukoszek to give Cracovia the lead, the odds about the double firmed several points.

Pieda, reading the play skillfully and covering an enormous amount of territory, gave Azzurri few chances to work the ball into the scoring zone.

But in the 40th minute, right-back John Roxburgh, dispossessed Cracovia's Wally Musial and slipped a long pass to Pikl, hovering near the half-way line.

Pikl raced down the right wing with the speed of a greyhound, cut into the penalty area and beat Cracovia goalkeeper Roman Wuzik with a cannonball shot from an acute angle—truly a great goal.

Five minutes into the second half, Segon escaped the attention of the Cracovia defenders for just long enough to pick his spot and fire the ball into the roof of the net.

Eleven minutes later Azzurri made it 3-1 and again Pikl cut the hole in the Cracovia defence. Receiving the ball from Gerry Cullen, he sized up the situation in an instant, flicked the ball over the heads of the packing defenders and there was Segon to blaze it home from point-blank range.

With only 17 minutes remaining Pikl pumped Azzurri to a 4-1 lead and it looked curtains for Cracovia, now in dire trouble with Musial a passenger because of a knee injury.

But a half-a-minute later Cracovia was back in the game as Lukozek, always a source of danger, beat Azzurri's Frank Tenaglia with 20-yarder.

Down to ten men with Musial in the hands of the trainers behind the goal, Cracovia reapplied the pressure. Azzurri's composure lapsed and centre-half Peter Giorgi, trying to back-pass to Tenaglia, miscued and Bekink raced in to make it 4-3.

Three thousand pairs of eyes turned to the scoreboard clock. Nervous Azzurri fans squirmed in their seats. Could their side hang on or was Cracovia going to achieve the impossible.

Just on a quarter-to five, they knew the answer. Over the roar of the crowd came the shrill blast of the referee's whistle. For the first time since 1960, the year of the inaugural O'Orsogna Cup competition, the handsome trophy was again Azzurri's property—for another 12 months at least. But what a match!!

And in the final analysis, Cracovia was lucky to get through to the final. In the second round it was beaten 1-0 by University, but the match was awarded to Cracovia because University called on players who had previously appeared for its sister club Undergraduates.

University, understandably, was annoyed. But rules are rules and these things just should not happen in senior soccer.

Nevertheless, there is an old saying that a match cannot be won in the board room.

The editor, though in support of the Federation for having taken the only course open to it according to the constitution, is of the opinion that if further disputes of a similar nature arise, the match should be replayed.

D'Orsogna Cup Final: Azzurri 4 (Pikl 2, Segon 2); Cracovia 3 (Bekink 2, Lukoszek).

THRILLER TO NORTH PERTH

The ad. says AMPOL FOR ACTION! And appropriately, the fans saw plenty of action in the final of the 1965 $1,000 Ampol Cup Final played at the W.A.C.A. Ground in February, when North Perth pipped Azzurri by the odd goal in a nine-goal spinetingler.

This match was a thriller, one which kept the big crowd in a constant simmer of excitement.

And even though Azzurri was beaten, it is pleasing to record that the Italian side's fans accepted the defeat in fine sporting spirit, in contrast to the ugly scenes that marred the presentation of trophies after the 1964 final when the same clubs played off, North Perth winning 3-1.

North Perth had centre-forward Sandy Thompson and inside-right Alex Napier to thank mainly for its 5-4 victory.

Go-getter Thompson netted a hat-trick and the wily Napier scored twice.

North Perth opened the scoring through a header from Thompson but with inside-right Gerry Cullen at his sparkling best, Azzurri took charge and appeared to be in a winning position when it led 3-1 at half time.

But then North Perth, inspired by Gil Nobbs, Roy Simpson and Gil McGarva, struck a purple patch and converted the two-goal deficit into a 5-3 lead.

Napier scored from the 12-yard spot after a foul by Sesto Riberi, Thompson added Nos 3 and 4 and up bobbed Napier again with a header.

Not to be denied, Azzurri fought back with surprising enthusiasm and when promising young Charlie de Bono scored minutes from the end the Sky Blues threw everything into attack in a bid to force extra time.

North Perth, however, slightly the steadier of the two sides, especially in defence, held firm and carried off the Ampol Cup for the second successive year.

Once again the Soccer Federation of W.A. and indeed all soccer followers are grateful to Ampol Petroleum Ltd. for its sponsorship and generous allocation of prizemoney for this popular night competition.

Crowds were slightly higher than those for the previous season and gate receipts provided a substantial slice of revenue for the Federation to devote towards administration of soccer.

Rentals and bar takings also provided welcome revenue for the W.A. Cricket Association, to whom the Federation is indebted for use of the W.A.C.A. Ground.

However, the W.A.C.A. should give some thought to trying to improve the floodlighting system, which is far from adequate, especially for international matches.

The size of the playing area, restricted because of the proximity of the centre wickets, also militates against good soccer. Congested play is unavoidable on such a narrow playing pitch.

SWAN ATHLETIC EARN ADELAIDE TRIP

In 1962 Moscow Dynamo and Russian international goalkeeper Lev Yashin played for 1,074 minutes without conceding a goal. That's a world record. And in 1965 Swan Athletic 'keeper Bill van Heumann played for more than 500 minutes without conceding a goal.

Van Heumann's feat may or may not be a record for W.A., but one thing is certain—in the last two months of the 1965 season Swan Athletic's defence was the toughest to crack.

This is why the big, bustling Swan Athletic side deservedly won the Top Four Cup and went on to represent W.A. in the $6,000 Australia Cup, which is the national club championship.

Van Heumann is in the veteran stage, but there's no doubting his class. He had to pick the ball out of the net on July 24 when Swan Athletic beat Kiev 3-1 in a State League game and then remained unconquered until September 4—when Athletic's sequence of six successive wins was shattered by Azzurri in a semi-final of the D'Orsogna Cup.

Two weeks later Swan Athletic avenged that defeat by dumping Azzurri 3-1 in the second round of the Top Four Cup—a win that virtually clinched a trip to Adelaide for the Swan side to play in the elimination round of the Australia Cup.

The following Saturday Swan Athletic needed only to draw its match against Olympic to qualify for the right to meet South Australia's Juventus. But Athletic didn't worry about a draw. It piled on the agony for Olympic, winning 4-1 and finishing the Top Four Cup with a 100 per cent record, having beaten Tricolore and Azzurri in the earlier games.

And so to Adelaide to take on South Australia's form team, Juventus, whose record was pratically identical with that of Swan Athletic—third in the league and winner of the Federation Cup, the Adelaide equivalent of our Top Four Cup.

Juventus won 4-2, but not before it had been handed out a king-size shock by the doughty West Autralians in the match played under lights at Norwood Oval.

Athletic, quicker to settle down, was leading 2-0 with only seconds to go before the half-time whistle. If only Swans had held that lead to the interval they might have caused the soccer sensation of the year.

But Juventus narrowed the gap to 2-1 with practically the last kick of the first half. The goal acted as a tonic and in the second half the home side, now clearly superior, scored three more goals to qualify for a crack a Melbourne's Slavia in the next round.

South Australian experts described the Swan Athletic-Juventus match as one of the finest matches played in Adelaide in 1965—fast, vigorous and exciting for the 5,000 fans.

Soccer World writer Allan Crisp paid a high tribute to Swan Athletic, which, he said, had something of a raw deal from the referee because he was unable to distinguish vigour from rough play.

Nevertheless, the home-ground advantage must have been worth at least two goals to Juventus and it would have needed some sort of a miracle from Swans to have won this one.

Juventus, incidentally, made mincemeat of Slavia in Melbourne winning

4-1, but finally went down in a quarter-final to George Cross, the Australia Cup holders. George Cross beat Juventus 3-1.

The Australia Cup final turned out to be an all-Sydney affair between Apia-Leichhardt and Hakoah and the match provided a sensation.

Deadlocked after 120 minutes (including 30 minutes extra time), the teams each had five penalties to try to force a decision.

Both sides converted all five spot-kicks and so another series of five penalties was ordered. This time each team missed once and so still the scores were level.

After another series of five penalties had failed to yield a deciding goal, a replay was ordered for the following Wednesday night.

This time in a scrappy game, Hakoah won 2-1 to bring the Australia Cup back to N.S.W.

Just for the record, the score in the first match between Hakoah and Apia was 1-1 and not 14-14 as was reported in some national newspapers. The converted penalty-kicks were not added to the official score.

BROWNING WINS ON COUNTBACK

One of soccer's greatest virtues is that it places the emphasis on brain and not brawn. The little man, provided he is good enough, has just as much opportunity to become a champion as has a strapping six-footer—more, in fact, when the game is played as it should be played, with the ball on the carpet.

W.A.'s outstanding player in the State League for 1965 was one of the little men—North Perth utility star Johnny Browning.

Standing only 5ft. 5in. and weighing a mere 9st. 10lb., wee Johnny polled 15 votes to win the Carbonell Cup for the fairest and best player on a countback from 1964 winner Theo Paap (Windmills).

Yet another of the countless number of Scotsmen who have done so much to lift soccer in W.A., Browning is an electrician in private life but in addition to handing out a few shocks to opposing teams he is a real jack-of-all-trades on a soccer field.

His favourite position is left-half and his usual position with North Perth last season was left-back, but you name any position on a soccer field and Johnny has played there.

His adaptability to fill any role, particularly one that needs strengthening, has made him a wonderful asset for the North Perth club.

What he lacks in inches and weight, he makes up for with an ice-cool brain, an uncanny ability to read the play and two of the most educated feet in the business.

Browning made his debut for W.A. back in 1957, against South Australia, and he wore the black-and-gold State colours again in 1958 when the touring Hong Kong side visited Perth.

Sheer bad luck prevented him from making a welcome reappearance for W.A. last season. He was one of the unlucky 15 players who were chosen for the ill-fated Eastern States tour that had to be called off at the 11th hour because of lack of co-operation by some of our sister federations on the other side.

Windmills half-back Theo Paap gave another series of polished performances to finish a worthy runner-up to Browning for the Carbonell Cup.

Still a comparative youngster at the age of 22, Amsterdam-born Theo has the hallmark of class and is destined to become one of the all-time greats of W.A. soccer.

Centre-half Con Houlis, a tower of strength in the Athena defence, polled 14 votes to finish third behind Browning and Paap.

Congratulations also are in order for Azzurri centre-half Peter Giorgi, winner of the Scott-Bonnar award on the TVW7 World of Sport programme.

A panel of independent observers adjudicated at each State league game and Giorgi received six votes to win a $200 lawn mower and $100 in cash.

John Montagu (Windmills) and Con Houlis (Athena) were next with five votes and then came Johnny Browning, with four.

Famous Arsenal winger Cliff Bastin won every major honour in English soccer before he was 21. He won 21 international caps between 1932 and 1938, two F.A. Cup and five league championship medals.

AND THE WORLD OF SPORT

Sponsorships of major sports events by W. D. & H. O. Wills, the makers of Craven Filter cigarettes, add to Australia's international repute as one of the greatest sporting countries in the world by inspiring Australian sportsmen to reach higher standards of skill in an atmosphere of keen rivalry against international stars such as the famous Torpedo Moscow Soccer, Everton and Chelsea Soccer Clubs.

belongs to the world of today

STATE TEAM ON UP AND UP

Two leading overseas club sides—Torpedo (Moscow) and Chelsea (London)—played floodlit matches in Perth during 1965.

The performances of the local boys in holding Torpedo to a 2-0 win and a full-strength Chelsea eleven to 6-1 helped to salvage some of W.A's prestige that was ripped to shreds a year earlier by a humiliating 14-1 loss to Everton's Merseyside Marvels.

A crowd of 10,200 paid to see Torpedo open an eight-match Australian tour in Perth on February 25 with an encounter against a W.A. side reinforced by the inclusion of five N.S.W. and Victorian stars.

Giving the local fans their first taste of the 4-2-4 system, Torpedo scored goals in each half and gave a creditable display considering that the Russians had left sub-zero temperatures in Moscow only a few days earlier and arrived in Perth when the mercury was up to 97deg.

Torpedo played crisp, concise soccer but strangely, to those who had seen the forwards show tremendous firepower in practice, rarely looked dangerous near goal.

Using a double centre-half system, the W.A. side often had the Torpedo attack tied in knots.

However, the game was spoilt as a spectacle by the ultra-defensive measures employed by W.A., which seemed so intent on avoiding another 14-1 shellacking that it forgot about trying to score goals.

Nevertheless, in the final reckoinng, this match may go down in W.A's soccer history book as the one in which our State side finally came of age.

Score Torpedo Moscow 2 (Solovyev, Sergeyev); W.A. 0.

Teams: W.A.—Ivanoff; Stojanovic (NSW), van Blerk (NSW); Morson, Paap, Simpson; McMeechan (Vic), Reid, Malloy (Vic), Ireson, Stankovic (Vic).

Torpedo Moscow—Kavazashvili; Andreyuk, Mushkovets; Sarayet, Brednev, Mischeriakov; Solovyev, Leniev, Shcherbakov, Batanov, Sergeyev.

Man of the match was Torpedo right-winger Solovyev.

Just for the record, it is interesting to note that Torpedo returned to Moscow to win the Soviet first-division championship in a common canter.

In May it was the turn of the Chelsea Chicks, the pride of South-West London, to visit Perth for the fifth match of their Australian Tour.

Fleet-footed Bobby Tambling, playing at outside-left, lived up to his reputation as Chelsea's top marksman by hammering a hat trick in the London side's 6-1 win.

Though nearly 17,000 fans saw Everton and an overall crowd of about 12,000 watched Torpedo Moscow in action the attendance for the Chelsea game dropped to about 8,000.

The reason for the drop probably can be traced to the lack of thrills in the Torpedo game three months earlier. Non-regular soccer fans, remembering this match, probably preferred to stay home and watch TV.

This was a pity for, despite the disparity in the scores, the match provided good entertainment.

At no stage did W.A. attempt to close up the game as it had done against Torpedo and as a result both sides provided 90min. of crisp, attacking soccer.

The local boys now becoming accustomed to these international club visits, were not overawed and at times even had Chelsea defending desperately.

Slick switching of positions by the Chelsea forwards, notably Tambling, centre-forward Peter Osgood and inside-right George Graham, was a feature of the London side's display.

W.A. goalkeeper Lou Ivanoff had little chance of stopping Chelsea's first two goals because of the poor floodlighting at the eastern end of the WACA Ground.

At least one more bank of lights is needed to bring the ground up to requirements for major matches at night.

Outstanding in a fighting W.A. eleven were Ivanoff and centre-half Peter Giorgi.

Score: Chelsea 6 (Tambling 3, Gaham, McCalliog, Mortimore); W.A. 1 (van Oosten).

Teams: W.A.—Ivanoff; Simpson, Riberi; Reid, Giorgi, Paap; Segon (van Oosten), Ireson, Allan, Cullen (Perich), Magennis (Scheepens).

Chelsea—Bonetti; Shellito, Harris; Hollins, Hinton, (Mortimore), Upton; Boyle, (Smart), Graham, Osgood, McCalliog, Tambling.

INTERNATIONAL SERIES TO SCOTLAND

A 2-0 win over Poland at Dorrien Gardens clinched the 1965 local international championship for Scotland.

Sandy Thompson and Adam Shaw got the goals for Scotland—both in the first half—in a match that fell short of the standard expected.

Earlier in the competition Scotland beat Yugoslavia and England on its way to the final.

The trophy for the international series was donated by Federation vice-president Judd Sterner.

How important are goal averages? Well, in 1926-27, Portsmouth qualified for promotion to the English first division after a thrilling race with Manchester City by the following minute margin: Portsmouth's goal average was 1.77551 and Manchester City's 1.77049.

McINROY MAKES IT SEVEN IN A ROW

No prizes are offered for guessing who was top goalscorer in the State League for 1965.

Once again the quest to be leading marksman was strictly a one-horse race and for the seventh time in succession the honours went to East Fremantle-Tricolore champion centre-forward Johnny McInroy.

This time his tally of league goals for the season was 35—six fewer than his total for 1964 and 13 fewer than his record-breaking aggregate of 48 in 1963.

Nevertheless, the popular Scotsman accounted for an even greater proportion of Tricolore's goals than he did the previous season—35 out of 72 compared with 41 out of 89.

It is difficult to write anything about McInroy that hasn't been said before. Suffice to say that he is an ornament to the game, a wonderful clubman and the beau ideal for any youngster to try to copy.

Early this year McInroy and his wife left for Scotland for a holiday and Tricolore will miss his presence in the attack, though as we go to press we learn that his place will be taken by former Kiev star Bev Allan.

If Allan is given the right support, there should be no reason for the Tricolore fans to be singing "When Johnny Comes Marching Home."

McInroy topped the 1965 league list with nine more goals than his nearest rival, Azzurri's Nino Segon, who enjoyed one of his best seasons.

Following are the players who notched double-figure tallies:

35—J. McInroy (East Fremantle-Tricolore).

26—N. Segon (Azzurri).

18—R. Bozich (Swan Athletic).

17—B. Allan (Kiev); J. van Ocsten (Kiev).

12—J. Jurjevich (Swan Valley); N. McDonald (Julia), C. Scheepens (Windmills).

11—L. Dundo (Swan Valley); H. Gudde (Windmills); H. Miller (North Perth).

WORLD CUP FEVER SWEEPS BRITAIN

A small gold statuette, about the size of a beer bottle, will be at stake when the world's top 16 soccer nations take part in one of the greatest sporting extravaganzas in history next July in England.

The trophy, donated by Jules Rimet, a French lawyer and former president of F.I.F.A., weighs 9lb., is insured for $6,250 and is the symbol of world soccer supremacy. This is the World Cup.

Six months before the start of the finals on July 11, World Cup fever was already sweeping Britain.

In May and June there will be a mass exodus of soccer lovers from all parts of the world, many from Australia, to England where they will join the Cup-crazy Britons for the 32-match final series.

More than 2,500,000 fans will pay to see the matches on seven English grounds, culminating with the final at the mighty Empire Stadium at Wembley, in the north-west of London, on July 29.

Videotapes of the final will be distributed to more than 100 countries for screening on television to an audience in excess of 400,000,000.

Such is the magnetic appeal of the World Cup, a tournament that in many countries receives greater prominence than the Olympic Games.

The 16 finalists are: England (the host nation), Brazil (the Cup holders), Argentina, Bulgaria, Chile, France, Hungary, Italy, Mexico, North Korea, Portugal, Spain, Switzerland, Uruguay, U.S.S.R. and West Germany.

Outsiders in the betting at 500 to 1 are North Korea, the country which wrecked Australia's hopes of reaching the last 16 by winning two qualifying games played in Cambodia in November last.

Played in the magnificent National Stadium in the Cambodian capital of Phnom-Penh, the North Korea-Australia matches attracted 120,000 spectators and gate receipts totalled nearly £70,000.

Australia, playing in the World Cup for the first time, went down 6-1 in the first match—a result that staggered the average Australian fan but one that was not such of a surprise to those who knew of the elaborate four-year preparation that the North Korean squad had undergone.

In the second game in Phnom-Penh Australia was first to score, but then the mystery men of North Korea—all bachelors and all physical training instructors in the army—asserted their superiority and swept to a 3-1 win, qualifying for the right to play in England by a decisive 9-2 margin.

The North Koreans are sure to be a major attraction when they get to England for the group matches against Italy, Russia and Chile in the northern cities of Middlesborough and Sunderland. This is the toughest of the four groups.

But even though North Korea is not expected to match the might of the Italians and Russians, the fans will flock in their thousands to see players whose names consist of such strange monosyllables as Hang Bon Gin (outside-right). Pak Si Sul (right-back), Pak Do Ok (inside-right), Lim Zoong Sun (centre-half) and goalgetting centre-forward Pak Seung Jin.

For the benefit of the uninitiated, it is worth noting that these names peculiar as they may seem, are nothing more than the player's father's name, his own and his mother's before she married.

Main interest in the World Cup series is certain to be concentrated in the London area, where England (an automatic qualifier as host nation) will vie with Uruguay, France and Mexico for a place in the quarter-finals.

land's reaching the last eight at least, the organisers have wisely placed the host country in what appears to be the weakest group.

Other group matches will be decided in the Sheffield-Birmingham and Liverpool-Manchester areas.

Brazil, winner of the World Cup in Sweden in 1958—the year the fabulous Pele made his debut—and again in Chile in 1962, will start favourite to carry off the Jules Rimet trophy for the third time, thus making the cup its permanent property.

Italy (winner in 1934 and 1938) and Uruguay (1930 and 1950) also will have the opportunity to retain the trophy for keeps.

My tip: Brazil, with Russia and West Germany as the biggest dangers.

AUSTRALIAN U-18 CARNIVAL

JUNIOR TITLE TO NORTHERN NSW

The teams which had to do the least travelling—Queensland and Northern N.S.W. (Newcastle)—met in the final of the third Australian junior championship in Brisbane last October.

The title went to Northern N.S.W., which toppled Queensland 4-0 in the final after having finished at the head of the preliminary table with three wins and a draw.

The final placings were: 1 Northern N.S.W.; 2 Queensland; 3 South Australia; 4 N.S.W.; 5 W.A.

W.A. drew with N.S.W. but was beaten in its three other games.

Without making excuses, it is fair to say that W.A. was given a rough deal in having to play two matches on the first day of the carnival after having had farther to travel than any other team.

Victoria did not even take part, claiming that they could not raise the money to send an under-18 team—a shocking admission from one of our strongest soccer States.

Victoria's Juventus club was prepared to send their junior team to Brisbane at their own cost, but the necessary permission was not forthcoming.

Results of the Australian under-18 championship:

First Day: Newcastle v South Australia 1-0; Western Australia v N.S.W. 1-1; Queensland v N.S.W. 1-0; Newcastle v Western Australia 4-0.

Second Day: Queensland v Newcastle 1-1; South Australia v Western Australia 4-0.

Third Day: Queensland v Western Australia 5-0; N.S.W. v South Australia 2-2.

Fourth Day: Newcastle v N.S.W. 2-0; South Australia v Queensland 1-1.

Final: Newcastle v Queensland 4-0.

OUR JUNIORS

By The Observer

THE PAST: The 1965 season will be remembered as the start of a new era in junior soccer in W.A. The Federation, through its sub-committee, was responsible for junior administration. In the past this was handled by a separate body. The introduction of more age-groups and Sunday soccer for boys proved popular and gave the clubs more chance to concentrate on the development of their junior stars. The Australian Youth Carnival, which gives lads an incentive to play in a world-class sport, brings more young players to our code. My thanks to the sub-committee and team managers for their efforts in 1965.

THE PRESENT: Mr Terry Anderson, one of the most experienced organisers of junior soccer in this State, has joined the sub-committee for 1966. At the first meeting it was decided to introduce an under-12 age group. Additional grounds have been obtained by the Federation to cope with an increase in the number of teams in all age-groups. We have applied to hold the next Australian Youth Carnival in Perth, though it may well be allocated to Melbourne. Junior soccer will be No. 1 on the agenda for discussion at all delegates' meetings of the Federation. So you can see that the executive is making an all-out effort to put soccer on the map.

THE FUTURE: Much work lies before us. We hope to obtain coaching films, tape recordings, etc., of world-class players in action. Lectures and coaching classes could then be held in all districts, including country centres. If every supporter, ex-player and player would give one dollar to help administer junior soccer, we would soon be, I am sure, the strongest junior sport in W.A. and ultimately the senior sport in W.A. within five to seven years.

KING OF SPORTS, KING OF GAMES

EDITOR'S NOTE: The article below was written more than 30 years ago and was first published in 1933 in France. We republish Jean Giraudoux's words because we think they are just as appropriate now as they were then.

In our universe where every nation has become nationalist and looks down from the ramparts of tariffs or hate—as watertight in their way as the walls of China—there are only two organisations international by nature; that of wars, and that of games. They hold sway over the same citizens, over the youth of the world; war, meanwhile, maintaining a preference for males. One of them dresses people up in the least visible of uniforms, the other in blazing colours; one armours them, the other strips them, but—through the workings of a parallel process not to be denied—it happens that each country now possesses an army or a militia whose strength precisely equals that of the army mobilized by the most widely diffused sport of all, football.

There is, in this equivalence, a symbol whose nature should be laid bare at the beginning of a book devoted to the glory of football. The forces of play balance the forces of combat in humanity, and do not become confused with them. They form one of the measures whereby nations are weighed, being judged now by their bodily as well as by their armed strength.

A nation today is an organism whose moral health expresses itself, as it used to, through its arts and activities, but whose physical health for the first time expresses itself not through its army, but through its sport, The statesman no longer throws into the balance a sword but a naked man, and the effect is the same. Through their Olympic successes at football, Argentina and Uruguay not long ago showed the vigour of South America better than any other propaganda, and have reaped the benefit of it. This flourishing of sport constitutes no threat to any conquests of the spirit, since in some way, whether one cultivates the body or the spirit, each method brings its corresponding gains. The great abstract terms of the world, which call each other forth just as the blow of a mallet runs the flag up in a fairground kiosk, have the same implication in the stadium as in the academy. From the day when the notion of quality was introduced into the domain of the body, the notion of equality or liberty had to shoot to the top of the pole. For example, this principle of the equality of the nations, which benefited enormously, in another era, from the fact that liberty of thought or writing was charged to small nations like Holland or Switzerland, now gains from the fact that speed or strength are encharged to Finland or Austria. Let homage be rendered to the various sports, and in particular to football.

For, still more than the king of sports, football is the king of games. All the great games of man are games with a ball, be they tennis, chistera, or billiards. In our life, the ball is that thing which most easily escapes from the laws of life. This is its most useful quality. It has, on earth, the extra-territorial quality of some force which has not been fully tamed. It is in no way related to the concept of the animal being, which is that of constriction, and, like a satellite of the globe whose laws it obeys without zest and with flashing defiance, it has the virtue of being nothing down here but a ball. Football owes its universality to the fact that it can give he ball its maximum effect. The football team is the chistera wall, suddenly become intelligent, the billiard cloth suddenly endowed with genius. Beyond its own principle, that of resilience, of independence, the team imparts to the ball the motor of eleven shrewd minds and eleven imaginations. If the hands have been barred from the game, it is because their intrusion would make the ball no longer a ball, the player no longer a player. The hands are cheats, they have been given exclusively to two cheating animals, to man and the monkey. The ball will not permit any cheating, but only effects that are sublime . . .

Most notable changes in the laws of soccer include: Goalkeeper's use of hands restricted to penalty area (1912); The distance from the ball at which opponents may stand during the taking of a free-kick altered from six to ten yards (1913); A player cannot be off-side when a throw-in is taken (June, 1920); Scotland carried proposal that a goal can be scored direct from a corner-kick (June, 1924). In the case of a foul throw, the throw reverts to the other side (June, 1931).

Highest score ever recorded in senior soccer was by the crack Argentine side Boca Juniors. They won a Cup match 83-0.

YEARS OF EXPERIENCE

DAVID ANDREW ASKS:

SHOULD PLAYERS BE PAID?

For a sport to progress, one of the most important requisites is money. Soccer is no exception to the rule. In fact, soccer, in attempting to rival Australian Rules by becoming a major sport in W.A.—as it is in most other countries of the world—needs much more money than it is at present bringing in.

Most clubs waste precious funds each year by renting grounds from local councils.

The game will never progress satisfactorily until we own our grounds, thus obviating the need to pay exorbitant rentals, especially for such a ground as the W.A.C.A. Ground, the home of the Ampol night competition.

By owning good enclosed grounds and having decent facilities, clubs will be in a much better position to obtain a great money-spinner—a licensed clubhouse.

Where can we get the money? What is more important, what happens to the money that comes in to soccer each year.

We all know that a certain amount is spent on equipment and administration.

But what of the money expended on players in transfer fees and match payments?

At least, in the case of transfers, the money goes from one club to another and so stays in soccer, but money paid to players is money lost.

This money could be put to better use in building up the game. It could be used by the clubs so that they would eventually own their ground and have everything that goes with it.

Some clubs maintain that they pay their players because other clubs do the same and that the only way to maintain a strong team is to offer incentive bonuses.

If players are not prepared to play without pay, then soccer is losing. It would be better off without these men. Clubs should build their strength on men who play only for the enjoyment that can be got out of the sport.

Alternatively, instead of paying players, clubs could spend their money far more wisely by getting coaches so that they can try to lift the standard of the game and give the spectators value for their gatemoney.

A higher standard of soccer would mean more paying customers. This in turn would mean more money at the turnstiles and eventually better facilities for the clubs.

Then, and only then, could a system of semi-professional soccer be envisaged.

There is just not enough money in the game in W.A. to justify semi-professional soccer at present.

If clubs continue to try to pay players as much as they have in the past, some of them may have to disband through bankruptcy.

The State's top club, East Fremantle-Tricolore, has more than once gone close to such a position and only the loyalty of the players has kept the club going.

◆ The Soccer Federation of W.A. has decided that, starting with the 1966 season, the three divisions of the league competition will be known as State League, Second Division and Third Division, thereby eliminating the confusion between State League and First Division. In all cases, in this section of Soccer Annual, this procedure has been followed for the sake of simplicity and uniformity. In fact, the State League was inaugurated in 1964 after having previously been known as First Division. There was no Third Division in 1964 and 1965.

East Fremantle-Tricolore's brilliant centre-forward Johnny McInroy netted nine goals in a match against Perth City on June 6, 1959. Ron Roki, still playing for Swan Valley, scored seven goals in a first-division match against Caledonian in April, 1957.

WISLA and WANDERERS WILL BE UP FOR CUP

One of the biggest giant-killing feats of 1965 was the 4-2 victory of Wisla (Collie) over State League side Julia in the first round of the D'Orsogna Cup.

Julia did not win a match all season, but this should not detract from the merit in Wisla's win, for the Collie boys had to make the long trip to Dorrien Gardens and the home-ground advantage should have been worth at least two goals to Julia.

This year city soccer fans will have more chances to see their country cousins in action.

Wisla once again has entered the D'Orsogna Cup and so has the top Albany team, Wanderers, which made a clean sweep in the Albany competitions last year, winning the league championship, Caris Cup, Katanning Carnival Cup, Payne Cup and Federation Cup.

Furthermore, several country teams will make the trip to Perth for the finals of the inaugural Country Cup tournament to be played on August 20-21.

Here are reports on activities in some of W.A's main country soccer centres:

ALBANY: Six clubs took part in the 1965 competitions—Wanderers, Tricolore, Polonia and Rovers of Albany and two clubs from Katanning, Inter and Katanning.

In taking off the league title Wanderers won nine out of ten matches, scored 52 goals and conceded only 11.

In the Caris Cup final, Wanderers beat Katanning 4-1 and in the Payne Cup (played on a round-robin system) Wanderers beat Tricolore 3-2 in a play-off.

A 3-1 win over Inter gave Wanderers the Federation Cup for the second year in a row.

Late in the year, W.A. State League champions East Fremantle-Tricolore played two matches against an Albany select team, winning 4-3 and 3-1.

On the administrative side, Albany took a big step forward by applying for incorporation of the federation, which is now known as the Albany Senior and Junior Soccer Federation of W.A. (Inc.).

A 99-year lease has been obtained from the Albany Council of land in North Road, by Centennial Oval, and plans are afoot to convert it into a first-class soccer stadium.

On the junior front, a league consisting of five clubs—Rovers, Wanderers and Polonia of Albany, and Inter and Katanning, from Katanning—was formed after a break of two years.

Rovers easily won the league championship, not losing a game and scoring 49 goals while conceding only three.

Rovers centre-forward Wayne Wignall piled on 32 goals for the season.

Polonia finished runner-up to Rovers for the junior league title, but went one better in the Federation Cup final, beating Wanderers 2-0.

Several school and junior sides from Perth visited Albany during 1965 and the Albany junior carnival was won by Tuart Hill High School.

Generally, 1965 was a season of progress in Albany.

COLLIE: Five senior teams and 102 registered players took part in the main competitions of the Collie Soccer Association. Unfortunately, no junior sides were active, but officials are confident that junior elevens will be taking part in the 1966 fixtures.

The main competitions were for the League Cup, Collie Cup, Charity Cup, H. May Cup and South-West Cup.

Wisla made a clean sweep of the trophies, but did not have things quite all their own way, losing once to Bunbury and often being under pressure in games against Thistle and Inter-Collie.

Bob Merrey took Wisla's fairest-and-best award and W. Whelan was the association's leading scorer.

Thistle started the season with a fairly weak side, but was able to build up into a formidable eleven through the acquisition of talent from men employed on the Muja power project. Thistle's star was 16-year-old Billie Aitken, who played for an English combined schools' team before coming to Collie.

Bunbury also fielded a useful side and its young goalkeeper, R. Cable, gave an excellent display against the State squad when it travelled to Bunbury for an exhibition match.

Inter-Collie, a young all-Italian side, had only its second season and showed evidence of becoming a strong contender for 1966 honours. In P. Costelli, Inter has possibly the best forward in the association.

Ewington did not quite come up to expectations in 1965 and only some stirling displays by a few of the veterans kept the side together. George English was the club's fairest and best and A. Sandford the most consistent.

One of the main hopes of Collie soccer fans is that leading city teams will be able to find the time to play exhibition matches in Collie. What about it Tricolore, Azzurri etc.?

EASTERN GOLDFIELDS: After a bleak season in 1965 when the junior association folded up, 1966 started on a brighter note when several English migrants arrived.

As a result the Boulder club has reformed and will field two teams—Boulder United and Golden Eagles—and Kalgoorlie also has recruited enough players to be able to field two elevens. As we go to press, it is hoped that at least six teams will take part in the Eastern Goldfields Soccer Federation's competitions for 1966.

Other main country soccer centres in W.A. are at Northam, Geraldton and Carnarvon.

The English Football Association was formed in 1863 and the F.A. Cup started in 1871.

The first soccer organisation to be formed in Australia was the New South Wales association in 1882.
